ABOUT ME.

My interest in IT started in early 90's, through use of Commodore 64, Atari 600, and Pecom. A decade later, I took a HTML course, and started making websites. As time kept going, I started using CMS like Joomla and WordPress, and learned to use big chunk of Adobe package in 2011.

Next step would finally be learning a more complex programming language, so I took a Java programming course during 2017, and learned about Android programming during 2018. Today, I am working as a System Admin, looking to step into Java and expand my knowledge.
